PART II – READING

There are TWO READING TEXTS in this Reading part.

Reading 1

Have You Ever Been on Holiday without your Parents?

SAM

I come from a strange family. My parents have always believed that kids should learn to look after themselves from an early age. That included holidays. I remember my poor brother went on a canoeing trip on the River Thames with a cousin when they were both just twelve years old. They had a miserable time and have never really recovered from the experience. When I was fifteen, they decided I was old enough to go on holiday with just my best friend. 'You are going to hitch-hike to the Lake District with a tent and backpack; you are going to camp, up in the mountains, for a week; and then – if you're still alive – you're going to hitch-hike back again.' So, we hitch-hiked for hundreds of kilometers, we camped, we got cold and wet and scared, and couldn't afford to buy enough food. But against the odds, we survived.

HARRIET

I've been on a number of holidays without my parents, but the first holiday was two years ago, when I was sixteen. My friends and I decided to go backpacking in Wales during school holidays. I booked cheap hotels before we left. The first two days were fine. But at the end of the second day, we lost our way. It was pouring with rain and it was getting dark. We eventually came to a farmhouse and knocked on the door. We were so dirty and wet that they didn't let us into the house. We had to wait in the garage! But they let us phone the hotel. Anyway, the hotel manager kindly sent a car for us. But the next day it was still raining so we decided to take the train home. I've learned why no one goes backpacking in Britain in March – it rains non-stop and the fields are covered in deep mud. I've never had such a miserable time! My holidays since then have been in warm places with dry weather!

An Ambitious Athlete

- (1) In 2008, a huge earthquake hit parts of Sichuan province in China. The earthquake was one of the biggest in China and in the whole world. The earthquake destroyed buildings, roads and transportation. Many people were badly hurt, and many died. Some were students, who were at school when the earthquake hit. One student, Dai Guohong, lost both of his legs in the earthquake when the roof of his school fell on him and his classmates. Even though he was very badly hurt, Dai Guohong tried very hard to get well. Guohong, who was then 18 years old decided to try swimming because doctors told him it would make his body stronger.
- (2) Now Guohong is getting ready to swim in the Paralympics in London, England, with hundreds of other athletes with disabilities. Guohong says that before he started swimming, he was confused about what happened to him. He says he only wanted to stay in his room alone. He didn't want to talk to anyone, and he often became angry with his mother, father, doctors, and nurses. He says that swimming changed his life. Before he lost his legs, Guohong was not a good swimmer. But with help from a disabled sports coach and a lot of practice, Guohong is now a very strong swimmer, even without his legs. "When I began swimming, I liked it right away because it made me feel free. Suddenly, I felt like I didn't have
